

DISCLOSURE, CONFIDENTIALITY & EMPLOYEE TRADING POLICY

1.0 PURPOSE

This Disclosure, Confidentiality & Employee Trading Policy (the "Policy") is implemented by the Board of Directors (the "Board") of Dominion Diamond Corporation (the "Company") to clearly outline procedures and practical guidelines for the consistent, transparent, regular and timely public disclosure and dissemination of material and non-material information about the Company and its subsidiary and affiliated companies (collectively, the "Company") and rules regarding trading in the Company's securities by directors, officers and employees of the Company and, where appropriate, service providers to the Company (collectively, "Employees").

The Company works to ensure that communications with the public about the Company are factual, timely and accurate and broadly disseminated in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

2.0 POLICY APPLICATION

This Policy applies to all Employees, and those persons authorized to speak on behalf of the Company. It is essential that all Employees read, become familiar with and understand all elements of this Policy that relate to their work and how to treat confidential information about the Company and its business.

3.0 DISCLOSURE COMMITTEE

The Audit Committee of the Board has established a disclosure committee (the "Disclosure Committee"), which is generally responsible for overseeing the Company's disclosure practices in accordance with the Disclosure Committee Charter.

In addition to the mandate set out in the Disclosure Committee Charter, the Disclosure Committee will review this Policy, and, if necessary, recommend updates to the Audit Committee on an annual basis or as needed to ensure compliance with changing regulatory requirements. The Disclosure Committee will report to the Audit Committee on a quarterly basis.

4.0 MATERIAL INFORMATION

"Material Information" is any information relating to the business and affairs of a publicly traded company (an "issuer") that results in, or would reasonably be expected to result in, a significant change in the market price or value of the issuer's securities. Material Information consists of both material facts and material changes. Marketing or distribution information or plans about any part of the Company may be Material Information to the Company.

Determination of the materiality of an event or information will be made by the Disclosure Committee. In determining materiality, a number of factors will be taken into consideration, including the nature of the information itself (both quantitative and qualitative information), and guidance outlined by securities regulators.

5.0 DISCLOSURE OF MATERIAL INFORMATION

The Company will disclose Material Information concerning the business and affairs of the Company to the public immediately, except where permitted by law and when otherwise required for the purpose of maintaining the confidentiality of the information (see Section 6.0 of this Policy). This is to enable all persons investing in the Company's securities to have the opportunity for equal and timely access to information that may affect their investment decisions regarding those securities.

Where Material Information is disseminated by the Company through a news release, that information is not considered to be publicly disclosed until there has been two full days of trading following the day the news release was issued.

Management of the Company is responsible for ensuring that disclosure of all information respecting the Company, including Material Information required to be disclosed under applicable securities laws, is carried out in accordance with a consistent procedure and in accordance with applicable law.

Procedures governing the disclosure of Material Information required to be disclosed shall provide that such disclosure shall be made in accordance with the following principles:

- (a) Material Information should not be disclosed selectively;
- (b) information previously disclosed by the Company should be updated if it has become misleading in a material respect as a result of subsequent events; and
- (c) where Material Information is to be announced at a meeting of analysts, investors, the media or shareholders, or at a news conference, a prior general announcement respecting the Material Information must be made by a news release disseminated by a news wire service.

All news releases shall be pre-cleared with the Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"). If practical, news releases to be issued by or on behalf of the Company will be forwarded to the Disclosure Committee for comment at least 24 hours prior, but in any event prior, to issuance, unless the Board is reviewing the news release.

6.0 DELAY IN DISCLOSING MATERIAL INFORMATION

Under certain circumstances and subject to and in accordance with applicable laws, the Company may keep Material Information confidential for a limited period of time because immediate disclosure may be unduly detrimental to the Company or may not be disclosable due to third-party confidentiality restrictions or uncertainty of events. The determination of when to not disclose Material Information immediately will be made in accordance with applicable laws and made by the Disclosure Committee who shall advise the Chair of the Audit Committee of such decision, ensure appropriate confidential filings are made and determine how that information will be controlled internally.

7.0 SAFEGUARDING CONFIDENTIALITY/GENERAL PRINCIPLES

Employees may not "tip" or discuss internal Company matters or developments which in any way relate to non-public Material Information with any other persons, except as required in the performance of his or her employment duties and in the necessary course of business. The "necessary course of business" exception is a very limited exception. This exception does not permit any Employee to make selective disclosure of Material Information to the media, an analyst or market professional. Disclosure under the "necessary course of business" exception shall be pre-approved by a senior executive of the Company or a member of the Disclosure Committee.

Information disclosed by a customer, supplier or business associate to an Employee, and identified as private or confidential, shall be protected from disclosure to the same extent as would non-public Material Information.

To protect Material Information from disclosure, Employees:

- (a) should not discuss Material Information in public places where Material Information may be overheard (e.g., elevators, restaurants, airplanes, taxicabs, limousines) or participate in, host or link to Internet chat rooms, newsgroup discussions or bulletin boards which discuss matters pertaining to the Company's activities or its securities;
- (b) should not carry or read Material Information in an exposed manner in public places or discard Material Information in public places;
- (c) should not discuss with, or disclose to, any other persons Material Information, except in the necessary course of business and pursuant to an express confidentiality agreement with the intended recipient of the information;

- (d) authorized to disclose Material Information in accordance with this Policy, shall advise the other persons with whom they are meeting where Material Information may be disclosed, before the meeting, that they must: (i) not divulge the Material Information, other than in the necessary course of business after receipt of approval to so divulge and pursuant to an express confidentiality agreement with the intended recipient of the Material Information; and (ii) not trade in the Company's securities until the Material Information is publicly disclosed; and
- (e) should avoid unnecessary copying of confidential documents and immediately remove from conference rooms and work areas after meetings have concluded all documents containing confidential information.

When so required by a supervisor, Employees will take such additional steps as may be necessary to protect non-public Material Information from unauthorized disclosure, including keeping filing cabinets locked, referring to specified matters only by a code name and limiting access to documents.

8.0 AUTHORIZED SPOKESPERSONS

All inquiries to discuss Company matters from the media, securities industry professionals, institutional investors, regulatory or governmental authorities, or the Company's security holders shall be referred to the Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") who will respond to the inquiry or refer the inquiry to the CEO, or to such other person as may be designated by the Board from time to time (each an "Authorized Spokesperson"). Employees who are not Authorized Spokespersons must not respond under any circumstances to inquiries from the investment community, the media, securityholders, or others, unless specifically asked to do so by the CEO.

9.0 MATERIAL INFORMATION RESPECTING ANOTHER COMPANY

Employees are prohibited from engaging in any action to take advantage of, or passing on to others, non-public Material Information or undisclosed Material Information respecting another company that they acquire in the course of their employment, including buying or selling, or recommending the buying or selling of, any assets or securities of that company, in reliance on such non-public Material Information or undisclosed Material Information. This prohibition also applies to trading by individuals (e.g., spouses, friends, relatives) who learn of non-public Material Information or undisclosed material information respecting another company from Employees who for the purposes of this Policy are responsible for the trading by such individuals; it being understood that trading by such individuals would also likely constitute a violation by them of applicable securities laws relating to insider trading.

10.0 TRADING RESTRICTIONS AND BLACKOUT PERIODS

It is illegal for anyone to purchase or sell securities, either directly or indirectly, including, without limitation, granting or exercising public option contracts, stock options, phantom stock plans or similar employee compensation mechanisms, of any public entity (including the Company) with knowledge of Material Information affecting that entity that has not been publicly disclosed. Except in the necessary course of business, it is also illegal for anyone to inform any other person of non-public Material Information. Therefore, Employees with knowledge of confidential or non-public Material Information about the Company or counter-parties in negotiations of material potential transactions, are prohibited from trading securities in the Company, either directly or indirectly, or any such counter-party until such non-public Material Information has been fully disclosed and a reasonable period of time has passed for the information to be widely disseminated. This period of time is considered to have passed after there has been two full days of trading following the day of a public announcement disclosing such information.

The Company has adopted trading restrictions which are applicable to insiders, namely the directors and officers of the Company, and to certain employees and service providers (generally people who are, or may be, privy to financial information) who from time to time are designated as being subject to the following trading restrictions. These restrictions are set out in detail in the Company's Insider Trading Policy. These persons are only permitted to trade the Company's securities, either directly or indirectly, including without limitation exercising options or trading in public option contracts, phantom stock plans or similar employee compensation mechanisms, when designated blackout periods (the "Blackout Periods") are not in effect and when such persons do not otherwise have non-public Material Information. Due to the fact that certain officers, directors and employees may, as any quarter progresses, be increasingly likely to possess non-public information about the expected financial results for the quarter or financial year end, as the case may be, the Company prohibits trading in its securities by all persons subject to the Company's Insider Trading Policy during the following Blackout Periods in each year.

Starting on April 30	Ending after there has been two full trading days following the day of the public release of the first quarter results
Starting on July 31	Ending after there has been two full trading days following the day of the public release of the second quarter results
Starting on October 31	Ending after there has been two full trading days following the day of the public release of the third quarter results
Starting on January 31	Ending after there has been two full trading days following the day of the public release of annual financial results

Blackout Periods may also be designated from time to time as a result of special circumstances relating to the Company, pursuant to which insiders and other designated Employees are precluded from trading in the Company's securities, including without limitation exercising options, phantom stock plans or similar employee compensation mechanisms. No Employee shall disclose to any third party that any such Blackout Period has been designated.

11.0 DISCLOSURE RECORD

The CFO shall be responsible for ensuring the maintenance of a file containing all public information and disclosure documents prepared by the Company, including, without limitation, news releases publicly released by the Company, materials distributed to analysts and investors and documents filed with the securities regulatory authorities.

12.0 DISCLOSURE OF MATERIAL INFORMATION

Subject to the provisions detailed below regarding the disclosure of quarterly financial information, all Material Information pertaining to the Company should initially be disclosed either: (i) by means of a widely disseminated news release; (ii) by the filing of a material change report or other like form with the applicable securities regulators; (iii) by another method reasonably expected to effect a broad and non-exclusionary distribution of information to the public; or (iv) pursuant to an express confidentiality agreement with the intended recipient of the information which disclosure is made in the necessary course of business. Disclosure of non-public Material Information to analysts and the investing community is never in the necessary course of business and shall not be disclosed to them until it has been publicly disclosed.

13.0 DISCLOSURE OF FINANCIAL EARNINGS INFORMATION

Quarterly and annual earnings information regarding the Company shall be disclosed in the following manner: A news release approved by the Board containing a discussion of the Company's earnings results should be submitted to the appropriate newswire service for dissemination in Canada and the U.S. In the event the Company plans to have an earnings conference call or webcast, advance notice of the time, date and connection instructions for the conference call or webcast will be (i) included with the earnings news release, and (ii) posted on the Company's website at the close of the market prior to the earnings release. The earnings conference call or webcast, if there is one, should be broadcast on a medium that will allow the public, without charge, to listen in on the call or view the webcast, as applicable, and, to the extent reasonably possible, provision should be made for a taped replay of the conference call or webcast to be made available for a number of days thereafter. Assuming that these steps have been followed, the information contained in the quarterly earnings news release may be discussed freely on the scheduled conference call or webcast.

No Employee should ever discuss the Company's income or earnings information either on a consolidated or individual basis (including giving any "guidance" or "comfort" on analysts' estimates or reports) with anyone outside of the Company, except in accordance with the provisions of the Policy.

14.0 DEALING WITH THE PRESS, GENERAL MEDIA AND INDUSTRY COMMUNICATIONS

Discussions at meetings with analysts, investors or the media shall be limited to an explanation or clarification of publicly available information and generally shall not refer to forecasts of future financial results or events. A record should be kept of all materials distributed or presented in any medium (such as computer presentations or videos) at such meetings. To the greatest extent practicable, more than one Authorized Spokesperson from the Company should be present at each meeting with analysts, investors or the media. After such a meeting, if an Authorized Spokesperson has any concerns regarding the information disclosed, he or she should discuss the matter with the CEO or the Company's legal counsel.

15.0 RUMOURS

The Company does not comment, affirmatively or negatively, on rumours. This also applies to rumours on the Internet. An Authorized Spokesperson will respond consistently to rumours by saying that, "It is the Company's policy not to comment on market rumours or speculation." Should the stock exchange request that the Company make a definitive statement in response to a market rumour that is causing significant volatility in the price of the Company's securities, the CEO will consider the matter and respond appropriately consulting the Disclosure Committee for advice if time permits. If the Company decides to comment on a rumour, a news release will be issued.

16.0 INADVERTENT DISCLOSURE

If an Employee becomes aware that there has been an inadvertent disclosure of Material Information he or she should immediately contact a member of the Disclosure Committee who will convene a meeting of the Disclosure Committee to consider the matter and the appropriate next steps.

17.0 ANALYSTS' REPORTS

The Company does not review analysts' reports or models. In no event shall any Employee comment on, confirm, deny or guide any forward looking statements or financial projections contained in such reports unless such forward looking statements or financial projections have been previously publicly disclosed by the Company. Analyst's reports are proprietary product of the analyst's firm.

Re-circulating an analyst's report may be viewed as endorsement by the Company of the report. For these reasons, the Company will not provide analysts' reports through any means to persons outside of the Company, including posting such information on its website, but these reports may be provided periodically to the Board and senior management. The Company may post on its website a list, regardless of the recommendation, of all the investment firms and analysts that, to the Company's knowledge, provide research coverage on the Company. Such list will not include links to analyst or any other third party websites or publications.

18.0 FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

The Company may provide selective forward-looking information to enable the investment community to evaluate the Company and its prospects for performance, provided that such forward-looking information is not, and does not contain or reflect, undisclosed Material Information, does not deal with the current period's operational results or earnings, and has been prepared by or reviewed by a member of the Disclosure Committee. In presenting any Company forward-looking information to the investment community in continuous disclosure documents, speeches, conference calls, news releases, etc., all statements are to be accompanied by appropriate assumptions and contingency, cautionary and disclaimer language which has been approved by the Company's legal counsel. The following guidelines apply to forward-looking information:

- (a) forward-looking information, if deemed Material Information, will be broadly disseminated via a news release, in accordance with this Policy;
- (b) forward-looking information will be clearly identified as forward looking;
- (c) the Company will identify all material factors and assumptions used in the preparation of forward-looking information;

- (d) forward-looking information will be accompanied by a statement that identifies, in very specific terms, the risks and uncertainties that may cause the actual results to differ materially from those projected in the statement, including a sensitivity analysis to indicate the extent to which business conditions differing from the underlying assumptions may affect the actual outcome; and
- (e) forward-looking information will be accompanied by a statement that disclaims the Company's intention or obligation to update or revise forward-looking information, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by law. Notwithstanding this disclaimer, should subsequent events prove past statements about current trends to be materially off target, the Company may choose to issue a news release explaining the reasons for any such difference. In this case, the Company will update its guidance on the anticipated impact on revenue and earnings (or other key metrics).

19.0 WEBSITE DISCLOSURE

The CEO or CFO shall authorize each Company website. Review of each website for non-public Material Information shall be undertaken by the Disclosure Committee. Disclosure of Material Information on the Company's websites does not in and of itself constitute adequate public disclosure of such information. Material Information which has not otherwise been disclosed in a news release shall not be posted on the Company's websites.

All information filed on SEDAR or EDGAR shall be immediately posted to, or identified as being filed on SEDAR on, the Company's website.

The CFO shall be responsible for reviewing and approving in advance all financial information to be posted on the Company's website. The CFO shall also periodically review and audit the Company's websites so as to ensure the accuracy, completeness and currency of the financial information posted thereon. The websites shall also set forth a current version of the Company's forward-looking statement disclaimer.

The Company's websites shall not post or hyperlink to analysts' reports or any other similar third party information regarding the Company. All data posted to the website shall show the date such material was posted.

20.0 COMPLIANCE

As a public company, the Company has an obligation to ensure that all communications of the Company's information are timely, factual, accurate and in compliance with the applicable regulatory and legal requirements of the various securities commissions and exchanges to which the Company is subject from time to time. Failure to fulfill this obligation may result in significant liability for and sanctions against the Company and, in some instances, certain Employees. This Policy sets forth the Company's prescribed procedures and policies to govern the disclosure of the Company's information to the public.

Failure to comply with the terms of this Policy may result in disciplinary action, possibly including termination of employment without notice.

21.0 CHANGES TO THE POLICY

The Audit Committee of the Board may, from time to time, permit departures from the Policy, either prospectively or retrospectively. The Policy is not intended to give rise to civil liability on the part of the Company or its Employees to shareholders, investors, customers, suppliers, competitors, employees or other persons, or to any other liability whatsoever on their part. The Policy may be amended by the Board at any time.

APPROVED by the Board of Directors of Dominion Diamond Corporation on the 9th day of March, 2017.
